

Dr Bala Ganesan is Principal Scientist at the Mars Advanced Research Institute and has been working with Mars for the last 10 years, conducting research in metagenomics of foods and microbial whole genome sequencing bioinformatics. Dr Ganesan has vast experience on applications of metagenomics in food safety and metagenomics and metatranscriptomics broadly in foods and also in extreme environments from his tenure previously at Utah State University, where Dr Ganesan was a research investigator for 8 years, after obtaining his PhD there in 2005.