

1 Robert Böhm is a professor in psychology at the Universities of Vienna (Austria) and Copenhagen
2 (Denmark). His main research focus is on human judgment and decision making in response to 3 societal challenges, such as pandemics and antimicrobial resistance. He is member of the Austrian 4 COVID-19 crisis coordination committee as well as member and vice chair of the Technical
5 Advisory Group on Behavioral and Cultural Insights, WHO/Europe. For further details,
6 see <https://www.robertboehm.info>

7

8